FACTS & FANCIES
Frank Fairborn, Jr.

THE SIGNIFICANT FACTS OF THE AGE

Everything to-day—home life, business life, the way we vote, even our holidays—must be judged in relation to the significant facts of the age. There are two significant facts: 1—an ideological struggle is going on for control of the world; 2—atomic power is available—a gigantic new force for good or evil.

In the ideological struggle there are: 1—those who believe in control—control by force if not by franchise, and who intend to cut off human freedom to get economic security; 2—those who believe in teamwork—a belief that free men and nations pulling together can not only produce enough for all but more than would be possible in slavery.

Join the battle for control on the side of management or labor, class or race, or this or that political philosophy, and the end is civil war, world war and the atom bomb.

Join the battle for teamwork where every man, class, race and nation give their best and do their utmost to help each other, and the outcome is constructive tapping of atomic force.

On which battle line are you? Do you fight to get your way at home, in the office or trade union, on election day and even in the matter of vacation? Then you are in the battle for control.

Do you fight to give your best on all occasions, to make other people great, to see the needs of all and take—with others—the responsibility to meet them? Then you are in the fight for teamwork.

The battle can't be fought for you by the U.N. or any other agency. It is fought by you as you live through every day. You are the maker of to-day's events and to-morrow's history.

THRIFT DOES NOT PAY

The opinion expressed by Mr. C. Gordon Brodie, that thrift is rapidly disappearing as a human motivating force because of the current lack of profit incentive, will find many people in agreement. One of them, who happens to be something of a slide-rule virtuoso, produced the following figures to substantiate Mr. Brodie's contention.

In the twenties, the man who accumulated $20,000 could be sure of an annual return of $1,200 on his money. It is true that baby bonuses had not yet been invented, that price controls and subsidies were undreamed of, and that the ordinary man had to provide for his own old age. But it is also true that relatively low taxes and a current investment yield of six per cent, made the idea of thrift attractive.

It is different in 1946. The man who wants an investment income of $1,200 now requires $48,000 to do the job. This amount must be accumulated at ruinously low interest rates and under a heavy burden of taxation.

Today's money rate is from two and a half to three percent., a long way from the comfortable six per cent. of the twenties, and today's taxes make the actual yield even lower. Suppose, for example, that a thrifty citizen earns $4,000 and is fortunate enough to possess investments returning three percent. After income taxes, the actual yield on these investments will be only 2.16 per cent. If his income is $10,000, his actual investment yield will be only 1.86 per cent., and should he aspire to an income of $20,000, his investment yield will drop to 1.35 per cent. after taxes.

These figures speak for themselves. Under the present system of taxation, thrift does not pay, and the personal initiative that brought prosperity to this country is a useless expenditure of effort. — The Printed Word.

When there is a ghost of a chance never give up until you give up the ghost.

USE PRECAUTIONS

Hotel guests can adopt simple precautions, which will increase chances of survival in case of fire similar to those which took a disastrous toll of human life in Atlanta, Ga., Chicago, Dubuque, Iowa, and Saskatoon within the last few months, according to a statement issued by the Canadian Underwriters' Association, based on suggestions made by the National Fire Prevention Association.

"When entering a hotel guests can appraise some of the major fire hazards for themselves and make plans accordingly in order to increase their chances of safety in case of a fire.

"Open stairways, leading from the lobby, and open elevator shafts act as flues which enable a fire to spread more rapidly. Therefore these should be regarded as danger signals.

"An outside room, not too high above the street and within reach of fire department ladders, is preferable to an inside room in a closed court where there is no way for firemen to enter.

"After registering, guests should assure themselves of the location of fire stairs or fire escapes and make certain that no locked doors or barred windows block their escape.

"Some hotels are equipped with fire doors, but if guests find them blocked open with wooden wedges, they should report this condition to the hotel clerk or manager.

"As panic often spreads through inability to warn guests, they should inquire what fire alarm system the hotel operates and what plan is in effect for notifying guests in case of fire.

"If exits appear unsafe, guests can work out their own plan for escape through windows or by means of rope made of bed sheets, which should be tied securely.

"Many lives are lost because in case of fire individuals try to escape by the door. If both door and transom to the corridor are kept closed, these provide some protection and delay the entry of a fire into individual rooms. An ordinary wooden door and transom, tightly closed, can hold back fire for some time before it burns through.

"In the event a guest is trapped in a room, the safest plan to follow is to open the window, keep the door and transom closed, and await instructions from the firemen, who can save more lives with ladders and nets if guests follow these suggestions."

ON LEARNING BY EXPERIENCE

The Edmonton Journal comments that at least one Edmonton man has discovered by experience the difference between money wages and real wages. He had a good job in the Alberta capital, paying him $55 a week. Attracted by the high wage scales in the United States he left his Canadian job a few weeks ago and went south to work on a job paying him $85 a week.

But, observes the Edmonton paper, he is back on his old job again. It took him only a short time to learn, so he reported, that his $85, in one of the coast states bought him less in the way of food, clothing, housing, comforts and amusements than his $55 did in Edmonton.

The experience is not uncommon, of course, but inability to learn from the experience of others is a normal human failing. And so men go on making the same mistake over and over again.

Nowhere is the repeating of error more frequent than in this matter of inflation, of higher wages and prices. The individual thinks he is smarter than victims in the past, that he can get the higher wages without paying the higher prices and finally that he can beat the inevitable deflation which follows. Or if he can't beat it then the government will look after him. All through history each succeeding generation has made these same mistakes.

One might think in the United States where within the past year big wage increases were eaten up by price increases brought on by the higher wages, that the lesson of experience would have been learned and still be fresh in the memory. But already the second round of wage demands is starting, has started with the coal strike, and other great unions are formulating new demands.

If the second round is not stopped, the result will be the same as that which followed the first round . . . until prices are beyond the buying ability of the great bulk of American citizens, the unorganized and white-collar workers and persons with fixed incomes who are the majority of consumers. Then the bubbles will break.

And even then, the chances are, the lesson will not have been learned.

TO CONFIRM THIS

The Encyclopaedia Britannica says that the word "chiffonier" comes from the French word for "rag gatherer."

To confirm this in these days of clothes shortages and high prices, just pull out the nearest bureau drawer you come to.

By RICHES AND BRYDON
Looking fondly back on the Merry Christmas holidays we think they are a very pleasant time of the year. We had a swell time, except now its back again to school and the beginning of a new term. From now until the end of the school year we are looking forward to telling you, our readers, of the events of this new term. So a Happy New Year and on with the battle, students!

Special Events Dept.

On New Year's Eve the old auditorium rocked to the strains of "Sunny Side of the Street" and "Adios" as the G.H.S. students rang out the old and sang in the new. It was a case of eat, drink, and be merry, for the whole party was free, including hats, horns, balloons, food and "coke". The generous benefactors were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Milliard who came forward a few weeks ago with an offer to provide, at their own expense, a place for the students and their friends to go on New Year's Eve. The party provided fun and dancing for many people who otherwise would have had no place to go and was a success in every way. We extend our thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Milliard.

The annual "At Home" is by this time ancient history, but we would just like to say that we thought it was a fine party. The fact that it was such a success was due mainly to the work of Havelock Jewson and his committee.

Sports Dept.

Basketball:

Juniors play Seniors—Seniors win 63-17. Never mind, children, "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

Coach Awde looks forward to a bright future for the basketball teams. The Senior team especially looks good to him. Sporting such stars as "six year men" Jewson, Brydon, Riches, (not bragging, of course), large Gord Ruse, and last year's junior star "giantboy" Jones, a fair number of points should be racked up against all opposition (especially Beamsville). They got their first chance to prove their worth last night in Hamilton against Hamilton Technical School. When this was written we were hoping for the best. When this is being read by you the outcome is known fact. However, win or lose it looks like the beginning of a good season for the cage fans.

Complete report on last night's doubleheader with Tech will follow in next week's column.

Girl's Athletics:

Have been doing our utmost to discover the cause of the definite lack of girl's athletics in this once-athletic time of the year. We notice there is no trace, as yet, of interscholastic volleyball, basketball, badminton, etc. There are plenty of willing and able-looking girl athletes, certainly there is a fine gymnasium, and other schools to compete with. What's holding you up, girls?

Special Feature Dept.

Joke of the Week:

Noo Year's Resolutions

1. Don McAlonen—No more jokes—yuk! yuk!

2. Gord Ruse—To develop a physique.

3. M. Pogachter—To learn "God Save The King" off by heart.

4. Coach Sterkey—to give up week-end holidays.

5. Us—to give up wimmin.

6. Toronto Maple Leafs—to stop picking on the poor defenceless Canadiens.

7. Toronto Huskies—to give fervent thanks for Red Roife.

8. Grimsby Peach Kings—to cop the O.H.A. Intermediate "B" championship.

9. G.H.S. Senior basketball team

—more points, more style, more wins.

10. Us—to give up all wimmin, except brunettes and red heads.

11. Fourth form boys—to shoot better.

12. Fifth form boys—to shoot better pool than the fourth form boys.

13. Middle School—not to follow in the footsteps of Upper School.

14. Lower School—not to follow in the footsteps of Upper School.

15. Us—to give all ideas of giving up wimmin.

P.S. Happy Noo Year!

Student of the Week:

Anyone who can make 84 marks in an exam in Upper School English, we think, deserves to be Student of the Week. This girl besides making such an incredible mark in Upper School English Literature (which is by far the most difficult subject in High School) also did well in her other 8 papers. We think her examination record worthy of recognition, especially so is her mark of 84 in English Literature, which, believe us, is really an accomplishment. The girl's name is Jeannine Nelles, ed. All these are essential, too, to physical fitness. The Department suggests to the ladies that they keep fit, and thereby beautiful, by getting out as much as possible, and observing the other health rules.

A fellow never gets to live in clover by spending all of his time looking for a four-leaf variety.

MANY HOLIDAY GUESTS AT THE VILLAGE INN

The Village Inn Yuletide season in the beautiful Oak Room was most picturesque. Christmas trees in aquamarine and silver white with regency red and aqua trimmings, were most effective with mirrored background. The glistening linens, silver and glassware added a most homelike atmosphere and as the guests were escorted to their tables candle yuletide logs were lit and menus in Christmas red and gold with blending Oak Room color scheme were placed before them.

Classic selections by the string ensemble featuring Mr. Frank Gouliarde of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra on the violin completed a most delightful atmospheric setting.

Tables for Yuletide guests included Mr. Norman Harris and Miss Harris, Mr. and Mrs. G. Parker and family; Rev. Fr. G. Parker and family; Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Welcome

THE HOLIDAY SEASON AT THE VILLAGE INN

Not since the late John Hewitt first opened the doors of The Village Inn in June, 1908—has that popular hostelry had such a busy holiday season as it experienced this past Yuletide.

Beginning with the staff dinner and Christmas tree on December 23rd, it was a hectic 10 days. The staff dinner was a gala affair with the prettily decorated and lighted Christmas tree being loaded with gifts for all as well as fat bonuses from the management. The staff presented Miss Peggy O'Neill with a very lovely and appropriate gift.

On Christmas Day and New Year's Day over 500 holiday dinners were served. The New Year's Eve Party was the biggest and happiest affair ever held in the Peninsula. There were over 400 in attendance and a most excellent dinner was served. The Oak Room was a bower of beauty with red carnations, candelabra and colored lights. Excellent music was provided for dancing by The Village Inn orchestra under the baton of Wally Miller. A real Broadway floor show from Buffalo was one of the big features of the evening.

During the festive season many dinner parties were held, among which was the dinner of the Canadian Silk Mfg. Co., Hamilton, for 150; Stanley Steel Co. staff, Hamilton, for 100; W. S. Tyler, St. Catharines, staff for 50. There were many other smaller dinner parties.

On Christmas Eve, Miss O'Neill entertained for 150 at a cocktail party.

There will be no more Saturday evening dinner dances at The Inn until February when a special series of dances will start which will introduce many new features.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank my many friends for their cards, flowers, and acts of kindness, and to wish them all a Happy New Year.

Bert Gillespie.

AVOIDING COLDS

Here's the way National Health authorities suggest one may avoid respiratory infections—most common during cold weather: eat regularly, having well-balanced meals; sleep in well-ventilated rooms, clean out impurities of the air-passages by deep breathing, and stay away from obvious cases of sore throat and head colds.

HOWARD DONALD CULP

Citizens were greatly shocked to learn on Thursday morning last of the death in Hamilton hospital on New Year's night of Howard Donald Culp, a very well known and popular young man of Grimsby.

Known to his legion of friends as "Coogie" his death was entirely unexpected, as to many they did not even know that he was ill. He had been in rather poor health for some time and entered hospital on Monday afternoon. He rapidly

Beaver Club

The Beaver Club held their first meeting of 1947 in the Church rooms on Monday evening, January 6th. Mrs. D. E. Anderson, the new president conducted the meeting. The Treasurer's report for 1946 was given by Mrs. G. Carson and showed a substantial balance. The Secretary's report, given by Mrs. A. Stevenson, showed the highlights of the Club's activities in 1946. An interesting letter was read from one of the Club's members, now living in Cuba. This letter told of the high prices and scarcity of certain foodstuffs in Cuba, making us realize how fortunate we are to be living in Grimsby. A humorous reading was very ably given by Mrs. Chas. Coxall.

He was well known throughout the whole district particularly through his connection with dance orchestras, he being considered one of the best trap-drummers in Southern Ontario.

He was born in Grimsby, the only son of Mrs. Myrtle Culp and the late Ernest H. Culp, educated in Grimsby schools and had resided here his entire life. He was a member of St. Andrew's Anglican Church and Union Lodge No. 7, A.F. & A.M., under whose auspices the funeral services were conducted.

He is survived by a sorrowing widow and one daughter, Sonia; his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Culp, Niagara Falls, one sister, Mrs. Kenneth Irwin, Niagara Falls.

Funeral services were conducted from the Stonehouse Funeral Home on Saturday and were very largely attended. Rev. E. A. Brooks officiated. Interment was in Queen's Lawn Cemetery.

Casket bearers were Kenneth Irwin, James Dunham, Kenneth Lambert, C. D. Millyard, Wilfred Lawson, Edward Marlowe.

SPORTOLOGY

(By Bones Livingston, Sportologist)

MUDCATS ARE COMING TO TOWN—Yus Siree. The boys tomorrow night and if you want to see them, then just journey up Livingston Avenue to GEO. MARR'S Palace of Pleasure and witness them clashing sticks with the PEACH KINGS. DUNNVILLE has always been welcome visitors to the Fruit Belt because they always played the game. Always good sports and always have a good hockey team. To all appearances they have a good team this year despite the fact that they have to depend upon natural ice and this winter has certainly not been conducive to the manufacture of natural ice. The CATS stepped into OAKVILLE 10 days ago and laced that up and coming war SOGGY GREEN cutting five notches on his trusty hickory. SOGGY may be a veteran and a little slower than he used to be but don't forget he has a headful of hockey brains and is no person to fool around with when he is dangling around centre ice. Some old familiar faces will be seen on the CAT team in PENNELL and TYLIE former PEACH KING and Smithville sweater wearers. PENNELL scored three goals against OAKVILLE. He always was a dangerous man close in. Also they have JAMESON AND MELENBACHER that played for HAGERSVILLE last winter and they are a right smart pair of husky defencemen. Added to this group they have several youngsters picked up from the rural league that are developing fast. You can depend upon it that they will be right in there fighting and the KINGS will have no easy evening of it. Last Friday night PORT DALHOUSIE had to go all out to lick the CATS 6-4 in the dying moments of the last period and the PORTS have been on ice since the ARENA opened. Turn out tomorrow night and give the boys from the GRAND RIVER a rousing welcome and see a real hockey duel.

WHAT MAKES A WILDCAT WILDER?—Same thing that makes a hockey coach go nuts Disturbing their peace of mind and upsetting their plans. OLD POP McVICAR played the toughest game of his long and honorable career last Friday night and he was sitting on the bench at that. KINGS went up against a real hockey team in the PORT COLBORNE LEGIONAIRRES and just how POP juggled his short-handed, disorganized crew to pull out a victory he could not even explain himself on Saturday morning. First KEMP and BLANCHARD were home sick, that meant a juggling of his lines. Then one of his players showed up in no fit condition to play hockey. That not only weakened the team somewhat more but meant more juggling. In fact he played with practically two lines and three defencemen all night against a good team at full strength. Then to make matters worse REID went under the doctor's care for a considerable part of the second period with a badly gashed lip. Oh, to be a hockey coach. This juggling of lines and what not thoroughly disorganized the KINGS and they were the luckiest bunch of horseshoe carriers on earth to be able to pull out a win. As every hockey expert knows when a good team is disorganized they play far worse hockey than a really poor team does. Maybe its a good thing they have that game out of their systems.

BOWLING BALLS AND HOCKEY STICKS—Down in Port Dalhousie where he now resides, the natives call our own BUD FISHER, the old PEACH KING netminder, MR. BUD FISHER. Getting up in the world... FUD REID will handle the KINGS from the box tomorrow night, OLD POP being away in Montreal lining up a fresh supply of Black Horses. . . . Bowlers are back on schedule again. Things were kind of dull over the holidays with nobody but LITTLE WHIZZER to barrack. . . . Port Dalhousie correspondent of the St. Catharines Standard writes: "We have the players; we have the uniforms and the equipment but we have no funds or transportation." Tough spot, but the Kings have been in that spot more than once. . . . BIG RUSH was a visitor in town on Monday. . . . GORD McGREGOR, the Beamsville Jack Pine, is handling the press box assignment for THE INDEPENDENT again this winter. . . . Can you imagine that old Catfish SOGGY GREEN scoring five goals in succession and in the third period, too. There's hockey in the old dog yet. Watch him tomorrow night. . . . What do you think of the big time idea of the advertising and information program that the hockey club is handing out? Smart idea, eh, what. Thanks to the merchants of GRIMSBY and BEAMSVILLE that made this possible. Last week the program number winners names were not obtained by the ARENA staff, but they will be in the future. Do not throw your programs away after the game. Send them to your friends to show them what a real smart hockey town is doing. . . . Four of the six teams in the Fruit Belt group are sponsored by the Canadian Legion: Thorold, Port Colborne, Oakville and the PEACH KINGS. Dunnville is sponsored by the Kinsmen's Club and Port Dalhousie are on their own. . . . The Fruit Belt League on Monday night was productive of just two things, big scores and goose eggs. Stoney Creek beat Mt. Hope 3-0, while Winona was trimming up Fulton 9-0. Legion team cracked down Beaches 10-1. . . . Want to see a good game? Then go look at THOROLD and PORT DALHOUSIE at the igloo on Tuesday night next. You know Dalhousie are playing all their games in Grimsby. This will give you a chance to size up the THOROLDITES before they meet the KINGS the last of the month, when they play two nights in succession. In Thorold on Thursday night and right back in Grimsby on Friday night. DINTY MOORE must have had his wires crossed when he drew up this schedule.

BOSSY IS ACTUALLY THAT IN MAJOR SERIES—ONE DE-FAULT IN THE MINORS—On Saturday morning last, at George Marr's ice palace the opening league games in the Miniature National Hockey League, sponsored and financed by the local Lion's Club got under way. It is with regret that this scribe has to report that in the Minor Series, Cleveland defaulted to Syracuse. When one considers how fortunate the smaller boys are who live in Grimsby and have at their disposal an artificial ice plant and men who are interested in seeing to it that they have ideal sporting facilities—and who cheerfully dig down into their pockets in order to provide the same, it makes one wonder sometimes if this is really appreciated. It is most certainly hoped that this will be the one and only default during the balance of the season. In the event that the minors do not want to play hockey there are dozens of other boys who will be more than delighted to take advantage of the time assigned for this respective group. If there are any more defaults this very drastic step will have to be taken.

In the one Minor League game played, St. Louis took were the wash brush to Buffalo with a 5 to 0 score. Brotzell and Stuns 5 to 1. B. goal getters. In the Major Series, Detroit defeated Canadian city while Selby and F. Nelles were the twine darters for the motn and Maple Leafs provided the best game of the morning and for Bows the advantage of feed Bossy and count the goals. This youngster should have vantage of proper coaching and with further guidance will should have a first class hockey player. He whipped in five goals and Tom Collins had another five. The other Boston tally was scored by Nelles. Pool young hopeful on a nice combination play with Bossy. W. n fault was and McConnell scored for the Maple Leafs. The Leafs man up skated being out of position and failing to backcheck. Cliff Schmied but unfortunately was shunted into too many corners.

HUNTERS ARE FINED

Three men were fined by Magistrate H. D. Hallett Thursday as a result of a Sunday hunting party on December 22. Ray Lampman, Grimsby, and Lloyd Shire, Winona, were each fined $23 on charges of hunting on Sunday and not possessing a hunting permit. Coral Lampman, Caistor Centre, was fined $13 for hunting on Sunday. The charges were preferred by Chief Game Warden M. C. La-

Peach Kings Win-Lose

PORT COLBORNE GAME

The first game has come and gone in this division of the Intermediate "B", and the Peach Kings did gain a victory in their first tilt with the Port Colborne Legionaires. To the average rabid fan who turns out to support this 1947 edition of the Peach Kings, it was a good hockey game, containing all the thrills that this game of hockey stands for.

Victory did not come easy for the Kings in the opener, although they never were headed in the sixty minutes, three times the opposition came through with plenty of punch to tie the score. In the first frame Port scored the equalizer with a few seconds to go. The second saw the Kings score twice in six minutes, only to have the canal town lads come back and bingo twice in one minute to put the game back on a tie basis. However the Kings scored at the three-quarter mark of the second to take a one goal margin as the final stanza opened.

The game by periods seemed to increase in tempo. The first was definitely spotty, play was ragged and at times almost slow. The middle effort was faster in many respects, but the third really looked like a hockey game. The Kings increased their lead in the first two minutes of the third frame, when Hale scored unassisted. Again the Colbornites came back with two quick goals to again put the game on an even keel. And then it happened. At the 10:15 mark, Mattison scored from Zuke. At 12:10 Hutchison scored unassisted. And the Kings ended their scoring at 12:45 with Hale banging in his second goal on a nice play set up by Zuke. Port notched their sixth goal at three-quarter time, with Craig in the cooler.

And so it was an eight to six victory for the Kings. Pre-game speculation seemed to favor an easy win for the Kings, based largely on the effort the Port team put up against the Port Dalhousie guys here, last Friday. Two factors alter that discussion considerably. Firstly, International Nicke which to Port Colborne is what Imperial Oil is to Sarnia, let four good Port players participate in the Kings game. They were not in the Dalhousie upset. And secondly, and this was more important, Pop McVicar conducted what is known as a coaches nightmare, in throwing two lines against the three of the Ports. Missing from the scene were Blanchard and Kemp. Added to this was a tip injury to defenseman Pud Reid in the second period. This left the already shaky King defense somewhat—shall we say—off balance.

PORT DALHOUSIE GAME

Rumours are flying. Yes sir, ever since the word got around that Port Dalhousie whipped the Port Colborne boys, fans around these parts have been calling the Lakeside puck pushers as the team for the Kings to beat. Granted, there are those who still think Thorold and Dunnville might have something on the ball, no excluding a prayer.

At any rate four hundred and twenty fans saw the Kings fight and fight hard, against the Dalhousie lads, but when Tom Warner's crew took over to clear away the debris, there it was. Port Dalhousie 8, Peach Kings 7.

So take this defeat, add what might happen when the Kings meet Thorold and Dunnville, and what have we got. The answer is probably a bang up schedule, and the eventual winner a helluva good team.

The game was highlighted by an overdose of penalties, with Dinty Moore doing the calling. The tally sheet shows that almost every type of mayhem was committed, and the eighteen penalties (eleven for Port and seven for the Kings,) stand for one thing for sure. Most of the goals scored came when the penalized team were holding a cohort in the jug.

Juggling his lines around to find a scoring combination, Pop McVicar really scored on the Warner-Kemp-Hutchison line. However Hale we can't see for sour apples, at least with these two pucksters. Normie Warner and Mr. Kemp came through with the majority of the King goals, and counting assists ended up with ten points.

From a fans angle, Zuke's opening counter was a beaut. Of course breakaways usually are. The Kings early two goal margin was soon overcome by Port, and the first period ended with the score all tied up at two goals apiece.

The second was packed full of everything including five Port goals, and four King counters. The first penalties were divided evenly.

The pace really showed in the final frame, and play was ragged in spots. Mattison score from Zuke and Hale to tie the score, but the Dalhousie boys were not to be denied. From a scramble in front of the Kings' nets came the winning counter, the puck going in off the skates of a Port player. It was not kicked in, and that according to Mr. Moore is quite okay.

A lad by the name of Miller was in the nets for the Peach Kings, and will draw neither a rave of criticism or praise from this department. After all, a goalie is as good as his defense. 'Nuff said.

Fashion plates of the American colonies were studied by Producer Val Burton, and Director Charles Barton before the costumes worn by actors in Universal's "The Time of Their Lives" were designed.

The hilarious new comedy starring Abbott and Costello, is showing at the Roxy the first three days of next week.

Costello, wears one costume throughout the play, which has its locale in colonial times, about 1780. For sequences which show a number of the principals in modern times the attire of course, is thoroughly up to date.

As Costello plays the part of a tinker, he wears tradesman's garb, consisting of heavy woolen knickerbockers, gray woolen stockings, a green coat of army cloth, and a felt hat, tricorn style.

Abbott, who has a dual role, first wears the livery of a butler attached to a gentleman's household of the period. Later, as a prosperous writer of the modern era, he sports a fancy silk dressing gown, and a suit of elaborate sports clothes.

COLOR CODE

An international color code, designed to insure a uniformity of color all over the world for the first time, has been drawn up by French scientists after long research.

Tens of thousands of copies of this code have been run off for use throughout the world.

In the past there has been a certain amount of confusion between scientists and industrialists of different countries because of the impossibility of accurately defining varying shades of color.

"SNOWY OWL" by T. M. Shortt, Ornithologist.

The above illustration shows the snowy owl in his southern surroundings.

Down from the icy wastes of the Arctic, the Snowy Owl glides into a farmyard. Driven from the periodic scarcity of lemmings, his favorite rodent food, the valuable bird seeks rats, mice and other despoilers of food and grain. Thus the snowy owl earns protection from us by helping to conserve our food supplies.

* The people of Canada can perform a useful service to birds by providing food and shelter... when their food becomes temporarily inaccessible."

* An excerpt from "CONSERVATION AND WINTER HELP FOR OUR BIRDS," by J. L. Bellis, Jr., one in a series of pamphlets published by The Carling Conservation Club.

GROWERS BELIEVE

"This theory is neither exploded nor unexploded," said E. F. Palmer, director of the provincial experimental station at Vineland. "We really don't think there is anything particular to worry about so far as this is concerned, because we have had heavy ice storms in the past and no such damage to the buds seems to have resulted. We don't anticipate any trouble in this regard."

Mr. Palmer cast some doubt upon the theory that the ice-coat ing eliminated the fungus-type scale on the limbs and killed some of the insects "wintering" in the bark, although he admitted it was possible the ice was of some benefit.

"Eight to ten years ago an ice storm was credited with reducing

San Jose scale on the limbs, but it was never conclusively proved," he said. "It might still do it, but we can't tell yet."

He warned growers that, regardless of theories that ice would remove scale, they should carry out their normal spraying program to the full. "We should consider that any help from nature is just velvet and does not mean that we should cut down on our preventative spraying work," he stated.

The general opinion of growers backed up by the statements of the experimental station director, was that the ice-storm had caused no damage through breakage of limbs, and that there was nothing to fear as far as the 1947 fruit crop was concerned. They pointed out that they would do more worrying in late February and March when the weather gets warmer and there is the danger of cold nights.

The renovation work which was tinued in the new year with work-the Supreme Court. Where three offices formerly existed, there will now be one large office, with a counter-partition in the middle, and one smaller office joined to the larger one by two doors. The official work of the office is now being carried on in the warden's
